Not to Be Trifled With.

Will people never learn that "a cold" is an accident to be dreaded and that when it occurs, treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end, and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year, ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly triing symptoms. Beyond this there are to-day countess invalids who can trace their complaints to 'colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern and were therefore neglected. In approving the Thorne bill, which is own upon their manufacture and thereby prohibiting a very mean but a very profitable fraud, and vetoing one to pay Mrs. Judge Bennett the salary that her husband would have earned the balance of the year in which he died, Gov. Bradley is worthy of the highest commendation. A man with less stamina, might have yielded to the flattery and cajolery of rich distillers, who sought payment for their political perfidity by trying to induce him to disapprove the law, but Bradley seems to be made of sterner stuff and could not be swerved from the path of duty. His action in approving the one bill was as commendable as his veto of the other. There is neither warrant nor justification either in the constitution or the bill of rights for the payment of services not rendered. Judge Bennett's widow is entitled to no bounty and in the present condition of the treasury, and those who are suffering for pay for work actually done, the act passed by the Legislature was a piece of that generosity, which politicians are apt to display when using other people's money. Preferring always to commend rather than censure, it gives us pleasure to say that in the main, Gov. Bradley seems to have kept his promise to do right as God shall give him power to discern the right. The INTERIOR JOURNAL is not of that class of hide bound sheets that can never see anything bad in its party or anything good in the acts of members of the opposite party, and it will continue to give both man and devil his due.

Imperial Pekin Duck Eggs For Sale.

The Pekin Ducks are the most popular and profitable of all ducks. They are a white or a creamy white color, with orange legs and yellow bills. Their main points are: mammoth size, beautiful feathers, large numbers of eggs laid, are very hardy and easy to raise. To one knowing the Pekin duck, it seems strange that so many small, common ducks are raised. It is a mistaken idea that ducks must have access to a pond or a stream. They need no water except to drick, tho they enjoy an occasional wash. We have a fine, large flock to furnish stock or eggs from. Eggs tor sale by JULIUS NEGRO, Stanford.
